invites your interest in the position of
GENERAL MANAGER
DEPARTMENT OF NEIGHBORHOOD EMPOWERMENT

The City of Los Angeles seeks an energetic and innovative leader to head the Department of Neighborhood Empowerment (DONE) which supports the Neighborhood Council system — the largest grassroots civic engagement model in the nation — in its mission to increase civic participation and make government more responsive to local needs.

The General Manager for the Department of Neighborhood Empowerment is a creative and compassionate leader who will head a diverse team which supports Los Angeles’ 99 Neighborhood Councils. This executive will oversee a budget of nearly $4 million and a staff of 33 with functions that include administrative (accounting, budget, payroll, information technology, contracts), policy and government relations, Neighborhood Council operations, and outreach and engagement. To do this work, the General Manager must act “outside the box” and advocate for new and equitable ways to engage Angelenos with the goal to Empower Yourself, Empower Your Community, Empower LA.

WHAT IS A NEIGHBORHOOD COUNCIL?

Neighborhood Councils are quasi-governmental advisory bodies to the City government, designed to give all individuals, residents, business owners, property owners, renters, youth, non-profit providers and others a more effective way to improve the quality of life in their neighborhoods. Through Neighborhood Councils, all stakeholders, including those who are undocumented or formerly incarcerated, have a better way to understand the issues that divide them, and find common solutions through the bonds of friendship and community. Neighborhood Councils are managed by a governing body of volunteer elected leaders from each neighborhood and meet monthly. One primary goal of Neighborhood Councils is to increase public participation in government. The Councils have the ability to select their own boundaries, choose their leaders, determine their agendas, and prioritize their needs. They are designed to be self-governing and as independent as possible from City Hall. Neighborhood Councils have organized themselves into regional and subject matter alliances to further their impact. The Neighborhood Council system has the ability to build communities through shared values such as compassion, tolerance, and equality.

CITY GOVERNANCE AND STRUCTURE

Los Angeles is the second largest city in the United States and has a multi-ethnic population of approximately four million. It is a world-class city that offers a diversified economy and an unmatched quality of life.

Los Angeles is a charter city governed by a Mayor and City Council. The City Council serves full-time and has fifteen members elected by district for four-year terms. Boards of Commissioners, appointed by the Mayor and confirmed by the City Council, oversee several of the City’s departments and bureaus. Mayor Eric Garcetti was elected in May 2013 and is currently serving his second term.

The City has 38 departments, bureaus, and offices for which funds are budgeted annually by the Mayor and City Council. Additionally, the City has three departments (the Departments of Water & Power, Harbor, and Airports) that are financed by revenue generated from their operations, which are governed by Commissions. There are also two pension systems. In total, there are 43 departments, bureaus, and offices that support elected officials and provide a full range of services to the City.
